

ECZEMA

From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S.S.S. and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible eczema was gone, not a sign of it left. My general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease. I have often recommended S.S.S. and have never yet known a failure to cure.

CITY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

An Interesting Meeting of That Body Held Yesterday.

The second monthly session of the Roanoke City Teachers' Association convened yesterday morning, with Superintendent Rust in the chair.

After the opening services, conducted by Rev. Dr. Carson, of Green Memorial, and the reading of minutes of the last meeting, the association took up the literary exercises of the day.

Miss Lucy P. Boswell, of the Commerce street school, contributed an interesting and valuable paper on "How to Inculcate a Love of Good Reading." Although this was the young lady's first appearance before the association, she created a fine impression upon all who heard her, fully sustaining the reputation she has made of being a strong, progressive teacher.

Mrs. Scence, of the Belmont school, then read a paper on "Sand Modeling," illustrating by a sand map of North America her methods of teaching relief forms to her geography classes. This was most excellent, and was well received by the audience.

Next came Miss Z. K. Wyant, of the High School, who had assigned her for a subject, "History—its Periods of Discovery." In a full and exhaustive topical outline of this subject she showed her methods of teaching her classes by turning the audience for the time being into a class and conducting a recitation as she would do in her own school. This young lady is so well and so favorably known as a teacher in Roanoke educational circles that it goes without saying that her work was superlatively well done.

The last on the programme was Prof. J. P. Miller, of the Gilmer street school, who discussed the geography of North America. With a subject, of which he is so thoroughly a master, and with an exceptionally pleasing and clear manner of presenting it, he did not and could not fail to please and instruct his audience. Well grounded in his work, progressive in his ideas, this gentleman is destined to become one of the foremost educators in the public schools of our State. There being nothing further on the programme the association was adjourned to meet again the third Saturday in next month.

THE LATE PORTUGUESE MINISTER.

An Impending Funeral Over the Remains of the Dead Diplomat.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Funeral service of the remains of Senator Thedim, the late Portuguese minister to Washington, took place this morning at St. Matthew's Catholic Church, in this city. The remains were brought from the late residence of the dead man to the church at 9:30 o'clock under the escort of Companies B and H, Sixth cavalry, from Fort Meyer, Va., headed by the full United States Marine Band.

The President did not attend. Secretary Olney was the sole representative of the Cabinet, sitting next the casket on the right. Chief Justice Fuller represented the judiciary. After the service the funeral procession was formed and the remains were removed to Mount Olivet Cemetery, where they were placed in a receiving vault to await the sailing of the steamship Bourgogne from New York, on which they will be transported to Lisbon.

Cowboys on a Rampage.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—An equestrian show was held at Tattersall's last night, and one of the events was riding wild cattle by cowboys. It turned out to be practically a bull fight. Some of the cowboys were the worse for liquor, and after teasing a big long-horned steer until it was nearly maddened they turned it loose and tried to rope it. Before they succeeded the steer ripped up a pony in a shocking manner. Loud cries of indignation came from the spectators, and many left the building. The cowboys were disposed to continue their brutal work, but were prevented, and after much trouble the steer was taken out.

In the game on yesterday with the Y. M. C. A. team of Roanoke, the college team was victorious, the score standing 0 to 0. No touchdowns were made, but the captain of the Y. M. C. A. team called his men off before the time was up, thus throwing the game in favor of the college.

The reasons assigned for such action were that it was too dark to play. The college boys had carried the ball within ten yards of the goal, and, with the ball in their possession, it was only a question of a few minutes until a touchdown would have been made had the game progressed. A detailed account of the game is given elsewhere in to-day's paper.

Epworth League Entertainment.

An interesting and enjoyable entertainment was given by the Epworth League of the Methodist Church at the Indiana street chapel on Friday night to a large and appreciative audience. The programme, as carried out, was in every particular interesting and all engaged rendered their parts well, some handling their role almost to perfection. After prayer by Judge W. W. Barnitz, A. B. Pugh, the chairman of the evening introduced Miss Ella Francis, who read a very interesting essay on the "History of Methodism."

The recitation of Miss Mamie Weber, entitled, "Over the Hills to the Poorhouse," was well rendered and much enjoyed by all present.

The chief feature of the evening, however, was a dialogue entitled "The Bicycle."

The parts were well performed by Misses Burch and Ball and Messrs. Marshall, Oakey and Anderson. Mr. Marshall's acting, also that of Miss Ball, are deserving of special mention, each one performing their parts of the comedy to perfection. The vocal duet of Misses Daisy Dent and Willie Oakey was also much enjoyed by the appreciative audience present.

FOOTBALL.

A Great Game to be Played in Lynchburg on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. Kline, after making final arrangements for the game of football between the cadets of the Virginia Military Institute and the V. M. C. cadets, passed through town yesterday morning en route to Blacksburg.

All matters pertaining to the game have been satisfactorily disposed of and the long heated contingent of the two military schools will wage war over the pigskin on the Lynchburg gridiron on Thanksgiving day, when one of the most hotly contested games ever seen in the South will be witnessed. Both teams are in the pink of perfection and both have made good records.

This contest will decide the college championship of the State, and both teams will enter the field "to do or die." The game will be called promptly at 11:30 a. m., and 35 minute halves will be played. Special trains are to be run from several points and an immense crowd is expected to be in attendance.

FOOT BALL YESTERDAY.

A Hotly Contested Game—Neither Side Scored a Point.

Quite a large crowd assembled at the Athletic Park yesterday to witness the game of foot ball between the Y. M. C. A. team of this city and Roanoke College team of Salem.

The game was full of interest and the result was quite a surprise to everybody present, as at the beginning it was generally believed that the Roanoke College boys would have a regular walk-over, but such was not the case.

The Y. M. C. A. boys gained considerable advantage by Wright securing the ball at the start and making a sixty-two-yards run. The opposing tackle got in some good work by downing Wright after a hard run.

At the end of the first half of the game the Y. M. C. A. team had succeeded in riding over Salem's center to within five yards of a touch down.

The college boys in the second half seemed to have the advantage and succeeded in playing the pigskin almost to the goal when the referee said it was too dark to play and the home team quit. Owing to this action on their part the visitors wanted to claim a touch down.

A difference occurred at one time between two of the opposing players, which was soon amicably settled so far as they were concerned, but not to with the Roanoke College spectators. They were on the grounds, some armed with canes and others with hickory bludgeons resembling baseball bats. Those they proceeded at one time to use in a very uncalled for manner, but with a result not very satisfactory to them at any rate.

One of the bludgeons used by a Roanoke College lad was secured by a Roanoke citizen, who still has it in his possession.

While there seems to be a dispute over the result of the game a impartial decision would be that either side failed to score. The line-up was as follows:

AN INTERESTING MEETING.

The Association of Engineers Held an Important Session Yesterday.

A meeting of the Association of Engineers of Virginia was held yesterday at 3 p. m., in the office of the chief engineer of the Norfolk and Western railroad, with the president, J. O. Rawn, in the chair.

A paper by Prof. D. C. Humphreys, of Lexington, on "Measurement of Water in the Rivers of the Virginia," was read by the secretary, Prof. L. S. Randolph, of Blacksburg, read a paper on "Testing of Cements With Special Reference to the Effect of Heat."

J. C. Rawn gave a report of the Good Roads Convention held in Richmond in October, and showed very clearly that the agitation of the Good Roads Association was beginning to count.

Notice was given by Mr. Dunlap of a motion to change the name of The Association of Engineers of Virginia to The Association of Engineers of the Virginias, this to be taken up at the annual meeting in January.

A committee, consisting of S. H. White, Wm. M. Dunlap and H. A. Gills, was appointed to look into the matter of State laws in reference to the securing of a claim for engineering services, with power to act.

Palaski's New Courthouse.

The new courthouse at Pulaski has been let to contract and Miller & Warden, of Pulaski, have secured it. The building is to be constructed of Peak creek gray sandstone, taken from the quarry owned by Col. J. Rush Miller. It is to be finished in oak with marble floors and is to cost $18,600 from the ground up. This does not include the laying of the foundation.

A Bedford Negro.

It is not generally known that Booker T. Washington, the negro whose speech at the opening of the Atlanta Exposition caused so much favorable comment, was born at Hale's Fork, just across the Franklin line. He is about 32 years of age, and was reared by Mrs. James Burroughs, who was the mother of Mrs. S. R. Holland, of this county.—Bedford Democrat.

The Mystic Midgets Are Coming.

One of the most novel and charming entertainments ever given in this city by home talent may be seen at the Academy under the auspices of St. John's P. E. Church Guild, on Thanksgiving night. The Mystic Midgets, Lilliputian Carnival of Nations and the German Gnomes are very well known to most of us already and now to see our own young people impersonate these different characters in real life and blood with the many schemes and advantages that these young imps portrayed is worthy of the hearty laugh by all who see them.

The wonderful success that this cantata has had already throughout the United States and Canada with many engagements in our large cities running a week, stands as a sure proof that the efforts of the local parties and managers have not been in vain. In many cities we are obliged to repeat this and often to crowded houses. At the presentations in New York and Memphis, Tenn., standing room was at a premium before the curtain rose. The cantata abounds with many pretty choruses, solos, marches, etc. The spectacular effect that they are able to render by home talent would do justice to these of an older growth and far ahead of our professional productions to day.

The new and unique costumes designed by their special costumer in New York is also very effective. The march of the Amazon cadets with their shining armor, the tambourine and archer drills with song and ballad is a new departure and with calcium light effect forms a very charming feature. The cantata is designed for the old as well as the young. All those who do not see the Midgets on their flying trip will have much to regret after they take their departure. Popular prices prevail.
